

Plastic surgery Breast enlargement (Augmentation)

Description:

There is perhaps no woman in the world who would completely be satisfied with the shape and size of her breasts.

Technologies:

Breast enlargement is done in total anesthesia. A special implant is put under the mammary gland or under the pectoral muscle (if allowed by the anatomic built). This implant is of anatomical shape of the breast. The access is provided by about 5 cm long cut in the groove under the breast. The produced scar is very gentle and after surgical laser operation practically invisible.

Another possibility of how to insert the implant is under the nipple or from under the armpit. The surgeon suggests these procedures during the consultation before the operation. The results of research done for last 20 years shows that a silicone implant does not produce any risk of breast cancer.
