

Plastic surgery Breast reduction (Mammoplasty)

Description:

There are women who have mental complex due to their small breasts and on the other end there are women whose big breast is a burden to their lives and causes back pain and other problems. Reduction (mammoplasty) is a breast reduction operation which removes the excess fat and skin from the breast. This breast reduction should result in more attractive breasts and reduce many of problems outlined above.

Technologies:

Breast size reduction and breast modeling is done by surgery in total anesthesia. There is a surgical cut lead downwards from the teat. Through this surgical cut the structure and shape of the mammary gland is remodeled. The excessive gland, sub-dermal tissue and excessive loose skin are then removed. Post-surgery scars have the shape of a ring around teat and a line downwards to the groove under the breast. With larger remodeling the scar could have a shape of an anchor. Post-surgery scars are possible to be removed by the laser so as to be as little visible as possible and esthetically perfect. The details of the surgery will be told to the patient during a necessary consultation.
