

Plastic surgery Nose reshaping (Rhinoplasty)

Description:

Nose is a dominant part of the face and maybe that is why so many patients long for its alteration.

This is probably why the rhinoplasty is one of the most sought after cosmetic procedures amongst men and women. The vast majority of patients undergoing rhinoplasty surgery gain a feeling of increasing self confidence with improvement in their body image. Surgical nose shape adjustment does not necessarily have to mean only esthetic operation. It can also improve breathing.

Technologies:

The operation is concluded by an inner tamponade and an outer modeling bandaging or plaster splint. Post-surgical phase and recuperation is every patient's individual process.

There is also opportunity for laser assisted nose job, so-called profile adjustment. This is when the nose tubercle is of smaller or larger caliber or an enlarged nose tip is decreased in size and smoothed by a special laser without a more serious intervention to the bone or cartilage structure of the nose. Advantage of this surgery is a shorter time of healing without the necessity of a cast fixation. On the other hand it is not possible to provide more serious surgeries by this method.
