Laser teeth whitening

Description:

White teeth are the crown of every smile. However many of us suffer from an inconvenient tooth enamel coloring. The cause of this could be found in consuming goodies, drinking coffee or smoking. Pigment which is that way created on the enamel is possible to successfully remove by a laser.

Technologies:

This technique is able to whiten the teeth without disturbing the enamel. A special whitening application is applied to teeth. This substance sinks deeply into the surface of the teeth and reacts with settled pigments. The result of this reaction is distribution of pigments followed by bleaching «whitening teeth». The teeth bleaching surgery lies in brushing teeth, applying a protective mass on gingival and applying the bleaching preparation to the teeth. For more effective results a special lamp with blue light is used. The whole procedure takes approximately 60 - 90 minutes.

Operation is very gentle and the enamel is not damaged. For home treatment the patient can buy a special home finishing set of toothpaste, or tooth stick that maintain and finish up the whitening.
