

Aesthetic surgery Middle-sized wrinkles removal

Technologies:

Injection methods: Botox & injectable filling materials
Middle-sized wrinkles in the area around the eyes are removed by the Botox method. By injection a substance which works as an electric switch is applied into the location where wrinkles are created. The mimic muscle creating the wrinkle on the skin, stretches and that is how the skin flattens. The effectiveness of the first injection arrives as soon as in a few hours and lasts up to 6 months. After the repeated application the wrinkles are flattened for even longer duration.

For deeper wrinkles so-called size filling method – substances Restylane – Perlane is applied. This again regards the application of the substance into the skin by injection. The applied substance acts as a space filler, which lifts up and flattens the dented place on the skin. The whole procedure is very quick, painless and highly effective. Compared to a surgical operation it is also without the strain for the patient. Another advantage is that the substances used do not cause any allergic reactions compared to for example the application of collagen.
